

Tough Bargaining Series Starts In Auto Industry

DETROIT (AP) — Tomorrow marks the beginning of what advance indications point up as possibly the roughest, toughest contract bargaining since unions won a toehold in the automotive industry 27 years ago.

The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. are matched for the first set, opening at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the GM headquarters building here. The UAW and Ford square off on Wednesday; the UAW and Chrysler Thursday. Little American Motors gets into the act July 8.

Profits of the automakers are the highest in history. The union never had a longer list of bargaining proposals.

Strike Fund Ready

The UAW's strike fund tops $65 million, an all-time high. Henry Ford II has served notice that his company will not shy away from a strike if the union insists on the bulk of its announced goals.

Politics may get mixed up in the bargaining.

Current three-year contracts with the Big Three run out Aug. 31, when the presidential race will be getting up a full head of steam. President Johnson already has warned labor and industry generally there must be no agreements which would force price rises.

Auto industry contracts often set national wage-settlement patterns. Alone they cover more than half a million workers, and the UAW insists that approximately as many more members in supplier plants and in the agricultural implement and aerospace industries fare as well.

Average Now $3.01

The President's Council of Economic Advisers has proposed in a set of "guidelines" that wage advances be geared to increased productivity, which it estimated at 3.2 per cent annually for industry in general.

But UAW President Walter P. Reuther insists automation shoots up productivity in the auto industry at the rate of 4.9 per cent and has announced this as "a minimum goal" this year.

While making money gains important, the union has given top priority to earlier retirement and higher pensions on the economic front. These, it insists, would create job opportunities for young folk coming into the labor force and the unemployed.

The average wage of auto production workers now is $3.01 per hour. And the union has served notice it will insist on keeping and raising the so-called annual improvement factor, built into current contracts and giving workers an automatic annual wage increase of six cents hourly or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater.

Pensions Big Issue

It also will demand retention of a cost-of-living escalator on which pay rises or falls a penny an hour with each .5 change in the government's cost of living index.

Pensions currently are $2.80 monthly for each year of service. Retirement is permissible at 65; mandatory at 68. The union wants to cut the permissible age to 60 and raise the pension rate. Some within the UAW are making a strong bid to the retirement to years of service, without regard to age.

On top of this, UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey has said "there will be no contracts this year" unless pensions of those already retired are raised and tied, like wages, to the cost-of-living.

Mazey also insists the automakers must pick up the full tab for hospital-medical insurance for retirees. They now pay half of the latter.

Ford, who is chairman of his company, has termed the UAW slate of proposals "out of touch with reality." But Reuther said Ford "didn't scare anyone" with his avowal to take a strike rather than accept them all.

Ford and other automotive executives have struck out against what will be a UAW drive for more time away from what it terms "the grinding monotony" of the assembly line.

Besides two 12-minute relief periods which workers get per eight-hour shift, the union has said it will shoot for what would approximate two 10-minute "coffee breaks." It argues executives and office workers get them, but the companies insist the cost would be prohibitive with car-a-minute plants being robbed of 100 vehicles a week.

The UAW, too, has insisted that "improved working conditions" are to be demanded almost everywhere in local-level, at-the-plant pacts which supplement the national economic contracts.

Americans Cut Cigarette Use By 16 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cut down on their smoking by about 16 billion cigarettes since a government report linked health hazards to smoking, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The cut-back was 6.5 per cent below the first six months of last year.

The department said more cigarettes are now being smoked in the United States than in the period just after the report was released last Jan. 11, but probably not as many as before the report.

Meanwhile, cigars, pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes are becoming more popular. Sales of regular and small cigars are up about 12 per cent.

The department estimated cigarette consumption for the year ending June 30 at 507 billion—a drop of 2 per cent from the previous year.

"Data available thus far indicate that consumption dropped sharply following release of the (Jan. 11) report—probably 15 to 20 per cent. The severity of this decline has not persisted, but consumption has not recovered to the pre-report level. Whether or not cigarette use will resume the fairly strong upward trend that characterized the period 1955 through 1963 cannot be foreseen," the report said.

Production of smoking tobacco for pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes increased about one-third. Production of chewing tobacco increased slightly.

Soviet Premier Visits In Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev arrived today in Norway, a country solidly committed to the Atlantic alliance and more interested in topless swimsuits than in Soviet-Norwegian relations.

A ragged cheer went up from a crowd in front of the Oslo City Hall as Khrushchev, bareheaded and looking rested after his two-day sail from Sweden, stepped ashore.

Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen, who says Khrushchev's five-day visit has absolutely no political significance, greeted the Soviet leader on the last leg of his Scandinavian tour.

"I am glad your visit finally has been arranged," Gerhardsen told Khrushchev. Earlier visits were called off because of hostile newspaper comment.

The Norwegian premier has described Khrushchev's trip as "nothing more than a good will trip to return the visit I made to the Soviet Union in 1955."

Nose Cut Off In Car Crash, Sewed Back On

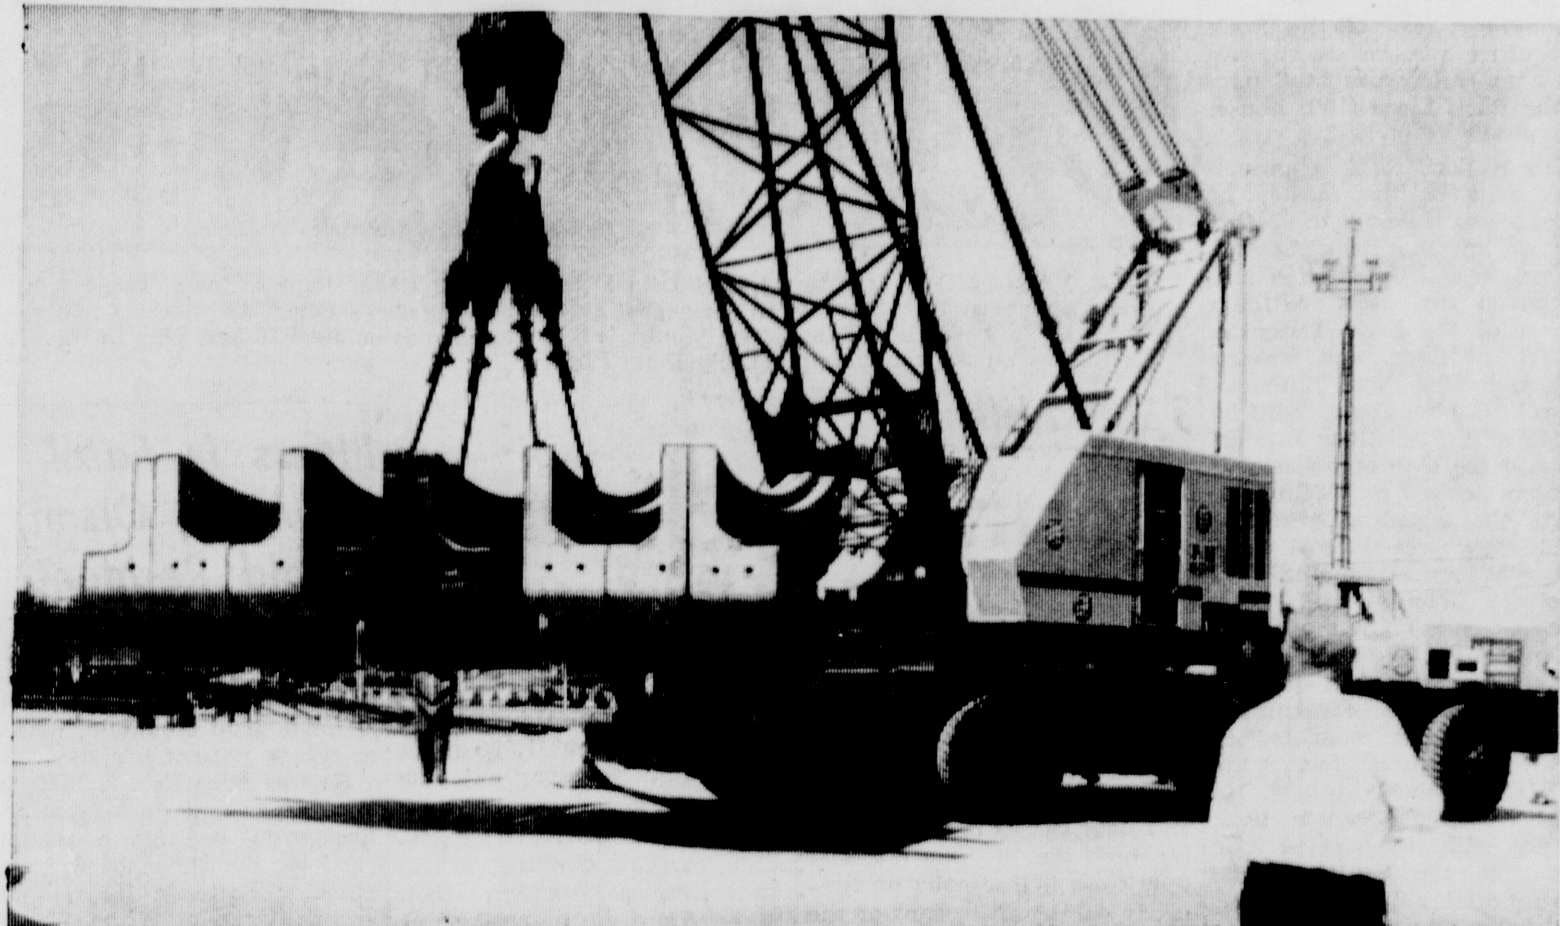

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — When a car plunged into a ditch, James Kenneth Whisenant, 16, of Barstow, Calif., was hurled through the windshield, and an inch and a half of his nose was severed.

When an ambulance brought him 100 miles here for surgery, doctors told the highway patrol: Find the nose.

Officers searched the scene 25 minutes, found the piece, put it in a container of ice and saline solution, and relays of patrol cars rushed it the 100 miles in 70 minutes.

Doctors sewed it back on later Sunday. They said there's a good chance it will heal.

Lodge 'Can't Be Drafted'; Give Plug For Scranton

THIS IS WHAT 85-tons of iron look like swung clear of the ground by a new truck crane developed by Harnischfeger Corp. and showed at its Escanaba Works Saturday to 150 construction contractors and riggers airlifted in from 20 states. This demonstration was followed by one in which the crane—largest roadable crane in the world—lifted 126 tons. It is equipped with boom and jib measuring 330 feet and can move materials to the 33rd floor of a construction job.

Fire Kills Boy, 3 Badly Burned

DETROIT (AP) — Rallie Lee Wideman Jr., 14, was killed and his sister and two brothers burned critically today in a fire at their Highland Park home.

Police rescued Ronald, 11, Martin, 7, and Debora, 10, from second floor bedrooms. Their parents were not injured.

Rights Bill Up For Final OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House takes final congressional action on the civil rights bill this week as it pushes toward a recess in advance of the Republican National Convention.

The sweeping bill is slated for approval Wednesday or Thursday. Then it is to go to President Johnson's desk in time for a Fourth of July signing ceremony.

Ahead of civil rights on the House calendar is the annual foreign aid appropriations bill, which at $3.3 billion has been cut less than any previous bill. Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., defeated in his own subcommittee on efforts to slash it more, will take his fight to the House floor.

The Senate takes up Wednesday the federal pay raise bill, which raises many categories of federal workers' pay, including a big boost for congressmen and senators. The House bill gave members a $7,500 raise to $30,000 a year.

Must Risk War To Keep Peace, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States "must be prepared to risk war" to keep its freedom, yet ready to "seek just compromise" to achieve peace.

This was Johnson's keynote message Sunday as he ended a three-day trip into Michigan and Minnesota. He took up the matter of war and peace in his only non-political speech of the trip, at a Swedish Day festival in Minneapolis.

Facing thousands of cheering Minnesotans who stood under shade trees in Minnehaha Park, Johnson said:

"Today, as always, if a nation is to keep its freedom it must be prepared to risk war. When necessary, we will take that risk. But as long as I am president, I will spare neither my office nor myself in the quest for peace."

In South Viet Nam, Johnson said, "We are engaged in a brutal and bitter struggle for the freedom of a friend" and "we will stand firm to help maintain freedom and give them counsel and advice and help as necessary." This was a change from his prepared text, which read,

Truce Sighted In St. Augustine

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The possibility of a truce in St. Augustine's racial conflict loomed today for the first time in nearly two weeks.

A new effort to establish a bi-racial committee of two whites and two Negroes to seek peace was reported nearing success.

Community leaders predicted that any group would have a difficult time because the middle ground has all but disappeared in the furious, month-long push for integration by Negroes and the equally determined resistance by whites.

There has been almost no communication between the two races for more than a week, following collapse of the first effort to find a settlement.

In the first fruitless attempt, a St. Johns County grand jury called for a 30-day truce in public demonstrations, after which a bi-racial committee would have been established. The Negro leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., rejected this and sought immediate formation of the committee. The grand jury refused to negotiate along these lines.

Kennedy Urges Poles To Lead Cold War Thaw

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Encouraged by wildly cheering Polish crowds, Robert F. Kennedy called on Communist Poland Sunday night to help promote the new thaw in the cold war.

The U.S. attorney general told Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki that Poland has a unique opportunity to supply a bridge of understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

U.S. sources said Kennedy told Rapacki that Poland could play a key role in improving relations because of its membership in the Soviet bloc and the strong ties between the Polish and American peoples.

Word Gets Around

They met for dinner at Jablonna Palace, a former royal hunting lodge 10 miles from Warsaw. They also were believed to have discussed the German territories seized by Poland after World War II. The Western allies have not officially recognized these as permanent Polish territory.

The meeting followed a triumphant tour of Warsaw by the visiting American despite an official news blackout on his arrival.

Poland's official press and radio maintained silence on the visit, but word got around. An estimated 6,000 Poles jammed the narrow streets around St. John's Cathedral as Kennedy emerged from Mass.

Shouts of "Long live Kennedy" and "Long live America" greeted the attorney general, his wife, Ethel, and two sons as they rode through Warsaw streets.

"I am not running for president, but if I were, I wish you could all come to the United States to vote," Kennedy told a crowd in front of Warsaw University.

Drownings Top Fatality List

By The Associated Press
Accidents claimed at least 21 lives in Michigan during the final weekend of June.

Ten persons died in morning mishaps while 11 drowned as hot, humid summer weather sent Michigan residents scurrying to the state's highways and lakes, rivers and streams for relief.

William Wanhala, 18, of Calumet, drowned Sunday while on a picnic with relatives at Upper Straits Lake in Oakland County's West Bloomfield Township. The body was recovered.

Marilyn Shaffstall, 19, of Munising, died Sunday in a two-car, head-on collision on M 28 in Alger County.

of U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot's limousine and waved when swelling crowds stopped the car. The roof partly caved in and they switched to another car.

Polish television carried the first news of Kennedy's Saturday arrival on Sunday night. Newspapers carried short descriptions of his activities today, describing the visit as private.

Despite the press silence, temperatures in the 90s and a violent rainstorm, crowds surrounded Kennedy all day.

Clearly moved by the enthusiasm, Kennedy put off his departure until late Tuesday so he could visit Poland's Roman Catholic spiritual center at Czestochowa. He was expected to meet the primate of Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski.

Muskegon Has Seaway Salute

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Seaway Festival schedule here today continued to portray this Lake Michigan port city as gateway to the world with consular representatives of 20 foreign nations as luncheon guests.

Mrs. George Romney, wife of Michigan's governor, was taking part in the activities under a backdrop of foreign flags, posters and special foreign trade displays.

The ceremonies followed a 40-bomb aerial salute to signal dedication of one Muskegon main street (Western Ave.) as "Avenue of the Nations" for the special occasion.

The theme of International Day is expanded in the evening with a buffet internationale on the Avenue of Nations where foreign meals and delicacies will be served at curbside tables arranged to seat 1,000 persons.

It is one of many special features of Muskegon's 1964 Seaway Festival which runs through July 4.

Opening ceremonies Saturday centered on formal celebration of the St. Lawrence Seaway's fifth anniversary.

Leading federal, state and Canadian officials expressed optimism for continued growth of the waterway and celebrated its progress thus far with toasts to President Johnson and Queen Elizabeth II.

Pipe Leak Fatal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say Charles Schaeffer, 76, went to his basement to fix a leaky pipe, tripped on a broken step, fell and struck his head against a cement wall. Then he collapsed, unconscious, in the three-inch-deep water from the leaking pipe.

Retiring Envoy Gives Report On Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge flew in from Saigon today saying the Republican party should nominate the "presidential candidate who is prudent, not impulsive, and I think Gov. Scranton is one of the best men."

Speaking at plane-side upon his return at 7:30 a.m. (EDT), Lodge declared flatly: "I cannot be drafted."

He said the whole point of his resigning the "very interesting" post in South Viet Nam was to come back and help Gov. William W. Scranton in his drive for the Republican nomination.

Lodge disclosed that he will appear at the Republican party Platform Committee in San Francisco July 8. He said he does not—so far, at least—have a ticket for the convention.

Talks To President
Asked for comment on Sen. Barry Goldwater—whose defeat Lodge seeks in the nomination fight—the retiring envoy said he did not want to comment because he wants to take a constructive line, not a negative one.

Lodge said he does not expect to become the campaign manager for Scranton "but I expect to do a little telephoning."

He thus disclosed his intention to work directly among delegates to the Republican National Convention trying to switch their support from Goldwater to Scranton.

Told by newsmen that there has been a certain lack of support for Scranton among the delegates, Lodge replied, "I hope that is going to change now."

Lodge got into his comment about "prudent" men this way:

"Having been in a foreign post and seeing how the President makes decisions on life and death matters, with the President having control over the atomic bomb, I believe both parties must nominate prudent men—not impulsive men, and I think Gov. Scranton is one of our best men."

Lodge reports to Johnson today on his 10 months in the embattled Southeast Asian nation. As for the assignment from which he is retiring, Lodge said he is confident of eventual victory over the Communists in South Viet Nam.

Lodge was asked what he thinks about proposals which figured in the developing political debate for using atomic weapons to defoliate forests in Viet Nam and thus strip the cover from Communist supply routes and hiding places.

"We defoliate every day," Lodge replied. "Using an atomic bomb to defoliate is like using an atomic bomb to light a cigarette. We use weed killer."

Met By Successor
Lodge resigned 10 days ago to come home and help Scranton in his campaign to win the Republican nomination away from Goldwater. President Johnson accepted his resignation a week ago.

Lodge left Saigon on Sunday and flew directly to Washington with a refueling stop at Honolulu. He looked fresh and fit when he and Mrs. Lodge stepped down from the military jet tanker.

Lodge was met by his successor, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who will be going to Saigon in a few days; William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state; William Sullivan, chief of the Vietnamese task force in the State Department; and Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Alexander and their two daughters. Mrs. Alexander is the sister of Mrs. Lodge.

Lodge said he would see President Johnson and would confer by telephone shortly with Scranton. He did not know for the moment when he would see Scranton and he said he had no plans to get in touch with Goldwater.

Terrorism Expanded
Of the war in Viet Nam, Lodge said "We had some favorable developments in the last few days."

"Just before I left, I received reports that for the first time

Scranton Says Goldwater Has Wrong Outlook

DALTON, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania launches today a nine-state, cross-country quest for support of his bid for the Republican presidential nomination after saying on television that his chief opponent lacks qualities for the high office.

Scranton leaves for Charlotte, N.C., on a campaign tour that will take him to Atlanta, Ga.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Chicago; Salt Lake City, Utah; Eugene, Ore., and North and South Dakota.

Addressing a national television audience from his Georgian-style mansion at Dalton Sunday night, Scranton listed three reasons why he didn't think Sen. Barry Goldwater ought to be the Republican candidate for president.

Short On Support
"In the first place it is clear that he lacks public support. Goldwater would run far behind President Johnson this November," Scranton said, citing public opinion polls made by him and by independent agencies.

Scranton added, "Goldwater has developed the unfortunate reputation of being impulsive with the great question of whether we shall have war or peace."

He said the Arizona senator complained that he is being misunderstood. This, said Scranton, "raises the question of how could he be expected to change were he president. The thought of the American chief executive constantly misunderstood by his fellow citizens, by our allies, and by our enemies, is not a comforting one."

Can't Shoot From Hip
"We need in the White House a leader who thinks clearly, who doesn't shoot from the hip, who understands that his every word and action will influence for better or for worse mankind's hopes and work for peace with freedom."

"The fact is that Sen. Goldwater has not shown these qualities. He has given every evidence of being a man who is seeking not to lead the Republican party, but to start a new political party of his own."

Scranton said that "of the 25 major positions taken by the Republican party in its 1960 platform, Sen. Goldwater has voted against every single one of them in the Senate. It would be amusing to hear the joke about electing Goldwater in '64—1864, that is—except that it has a tragic ring of truth to it."

Coin Production To Be Increased
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department plans to raise production of coins by 75 per cent during the next six months and double it within a year.

The moves, announced Sunday in an effort to overcome a national coin shortage, will bring annual production by next June to a rate of more than 9 billion, compared with 4.3 billion for the fiscal year ending Wednesday.

The women are enrolled in the university's graduate teaching-interim program. The summer session began today.

Guard Prepares For Encampment

The countdown has started for Company E, Bridge Company, in preparation for the company's annual trek to Camp Grayling on July 11 for the Michigan National Guard's 18th summer encampment since World War II.

The main convoy of troops and vehicles will move out at 6:10 a.m. on Saturday with scheduled arrival at Camp Grayling at 2:30 p.m. This part of the unit will move in two motor series of 10 vehicles each under the command of Capt. George C. Anderson.

Capt. Anderson said the unit's training objective will be to complete and maintain training efficiency at a small unit level. Company E will be located at Bear Lake in northern Crawford County, where

Trombly Takes Over June 30

Official installation of Francis Trombly, the new postmaster of Rock, has been set for June 30 at 8 p.m.

Announcement of the installation was made by postmaster James Pryal of Escanaba, who explained, "because a new postmaster can not very well handle the many details of his own installation, the Post Office Department has designated me, as a brother postmaster and as one who knows and admires the people of Rock, to provide for this important event in that community."

The new head of the Rock post office will be sworn into office in ceremonies at 8 p.m. in the Rock Lions Club house. The public is invited.

Leo Kulski, Rock insurance man, will be the master of ceremonies. Posting of colors will be by the Rock Legion, invocation and benediction will be given by Rev. William Avery, of the Faith Lutheran Church of Rock, and singing will be by the Faith Lutheran Church Choir. There will be remarks by Rep. Einar Erlandson and the oath of office will be administered by Postmaster Pryal, the installing officer.

The new local postal head will also receive pictures of President Johnson and Postmaster General Gronouski for his office.

Trombly, son of a pioneer resident of the community, was born and educated in Rock, graduating from the Rock High School in 1938. He enlisted in the Navy in 1942, served with the Naval Air Forces in the South Pacific theatre during World War II, was honorably discharged as an aviation machinist and gunner in 1945.

His postal career began in January of 1946 as a clerk in the Rock post office and has continued through the present date to his appointment as postmaster. Active in community affairs, he is a charter member of the Rock Legion Post, has held the offices of commander, adjutant and presently is chaplain. A member of the Rock Legion Club for the past 18 years he was recently elected secretary of the organization for the second time.

He is married to the former Viola Maki and they have five children.

3,200 Miles: Young Cyclists Pedal To Fair

Two young men from Iowa are seeing much of America on their way to attend the Worlds Fair at New York.

They are Dale Van Cleve and Deid Dierks of Cedar Rapids, both are 18 years old, and they were in Escanaba on Saturday on one of the laps of the trip that will take them a total of 3,200 miles before they return home.

Arriving in Escanaba at 11 a.m. Saturday they spent that night camping in Pioneer Trail Park and waited until the cool of Sunday evening to resume their journey. They came here from Chippewa Falls, Wis., their last extended stop. Van-Cleve is a former resident of that city. They are going from Escanaba to Sault Ste. Marie.

"We average about 75 miles a day so far and because of the heat of the day we travel at night," said Van-Cleve.

On their way here from Chippewa Falls and Wausau they found the days unseasonably warm, with temperatures sometimes in the 80's and 90's. They were burned and smiling, however, and looking forward with anticipation to the adventures that are ahead.

From Sault Ste. Marie they will pedal into Canada and eastward toward Montreal. They will go to Quebec and thence turn southward across the St. Lawrence and down through New England to New York.

Harnischfeger On Display

Biggest Crane Stars In Tests Here Saturday

Harnischfeger Corp. showed guests from 20 states at its truck crane plant here Saturday what its new 125-ton truck crane can do and the riggers were audibly impressed.

The crane — largest in the world that can be taken over a highway — lifted a new Ford automobile up 200 feet and swung it around in an arc like a toy, and then shifted to a shorter hammerhead boom and lifted 126 tons of iron with ease at 15 feet 8 inches from the crane. Angling the boom out to tip-point, the accompaniment of applause, the machine showed that it tips with such a huge load at 20 feet four inches from the machine.

The big crane had divested itself of its front counterweight and its auxiliary rear weight before making the maximum lift. The maximum lift is not as meaningful as the ability of the machine to handle lesser large weights at greater distances from itself in tasks like the erection of prefabricated steel beams.

The tendency in large construction is to prefabricate as much of the steel as possible at the mill or fabrication point and this creates a problem for the erector, whose capacity to place large members is an important limit imposed upon prefabrication and its savings.

Specialized Machine

The big crane shown by Harnischfeger to construction contractors, riggers and dealers on Saturday is intended for use in areas with many high rise building construction projects, for high transmission line work and similar needs.

John Mullins, Troy, N.Y., construction specialist was impressed by the big new crane. He said that in re-erecting towers of the Niagara & Mohawk Power Co. blown down in a storm, he had contracted to use helicopters to put the top members on the 325 foot towers, but that the choppers had buggered out and that he had to do the work from the ground.

He did it, he said, with 890 Model (90 ton) Harnischfeger truck cranes fitted with 325 foot booms. "These machines will do everything their makers say that they'll do, and then some," said Mullins.

Mayor George Rusch welcomed the visitors to Escanaba after their arrival on 5 chartered airliners from O'Hare Field, Chicago. They returned at 4 p.m.

Outdoors Rating

The morning demonstration showed the big crane operated with 330 feet of boom and jib. Then it was divested of its counterweights by its own mechanisms and made road ready. It was then equipped with a 40-foot boom and made a 85-ton lift and then more weights were added and it picked up the 126-ton weight. Rated 125 tons at 20 feet, it showed its ability to lift 126 tons at 20 feet without maximum counterweight. "This is fabulous and shows the reserve in the machine," said the narrator, C. R. Morgan, head of sales in Harnischfeger's Mining and Construction Division.

Walter Harnischfeger, chairman of the board of the corporation, called the big crane "an outstanding achievement of the company; I congratulate the engineering division. With labor cost higher; machines keep getting bigger. We were never in the steam shovel business, but we have been in the friction business since 1914 and today we have the greatest machine population of any company and 8 plants outside of America to assure service in practically any country in the western world.

"We are producing at an all-time high and are substantially sold out."

Lauds Escanaba

President Henry Harnischfeger said his company was concerned with the dealer making enough profit and working to bolster its support of its dealerships.

"We have had thousands of customers come here to Escanaba," said Harnischfeger "and the city has demonstrated its tremendous cooperation in doing anything we want it to do. The thing that we want to do is to grow and the climate is certainly conducive to it here. There are almost a thousand employed and each has demonstrated his open-mindedness and willingness for a lot of training. Greet them as you go through the shop in the tour and ask them their view of their production for you."

"They have just finished an outstanding accomplishment of 3.5 million man hours of work without a lost-time accident. The record goes back to July 17, 1962 and means no lost time accident for 547 days. Such a safety record contributes many advantages."

"Our whole rubber-tired line (of vehicles) is manufactured here and we also have a welder plant here. (The new 125-ton truck crane was wholly made in Escanaba, but because the local plant is fully busy, production models will have their carriers made in Escanaba and the upper works in Milwaukee.)"

"The industry has a capacity of 12,000 units and its operating at 60 per cent of capacity. Our backlog is good but there are no free rides and we're fighting for everything we can get our hands on."

Lunch In Plant

"The tendency is toward rubber tired equipment and we are the biggest producers by far of rubber tired equipment in the sizes you see here today. We have always been first. We pioneered the 125 ton crane with 330-foot stick and now we're wondering when the 200 ton machine with 500 foot stick will be out."

"Our leadership is a tribute to our engineering and production organizations. We have spent $12 million in research and development in the last 5 years and half of it in this division and a great part of it on the products of this plant. We are spending $2 million this year; we are not resting on our laurels."

On display were many models of P&H truck cranes, some designed specially for the Navy for use on LSTs, some for missile bases and other defense needs; most for industry. Lunch was served to the 150 visitors and other company guests in a large tent.

The team which demonstrated the 125-ton crane was led by Clarence Rivers, project engineer; and included George Poquette of Hermansville, operator; Dick Nelson, assistant engineer; Wally Dahl, lead man; and Ed Ettenhofer, Al Scherer, Ellsworth Nault, Clinton Delvaux and John Cody.

Retiring Envoy Gives Report On Viet Nam

people were not feeding the Viet Cong. These reports came from persons who have always been reliable in the past and who have not been particularly optimistic," Lodge said.

"The Viet Cong have stepped up terrorism against women and children. They have always been politically smart in the past and they have generally spared women and children."

"Essentially this is a contest over who can win people over. I think these are hopeful sub-surface signs. Obviously there is no victory yet. But I believe that if we persist there isn't any question at all that there will be a victory in South Viet Nam."

Lodge was asked whether he thinks Viet Nam will be an issue in the campaign.

"Generally speaking any matter of public policy is subject to debate," he said, "I don't see how it is practical to make this a political issue."

Lodge put on his political hat briefly Sunday soon after reaching Honolulu, his first stop on U.S. soil on his homeward flight. He avoided all political questions from newsmen, but talked politics with Stephen Cooke, the head of the Scranton forces in Hawaii.

Scranton's Chances Good

Cooke, asked later what the two had talked about, said, "We agreed that Bill Scranton has an excellent chance to win the GOP nomination."

Before leaving Hawaii, Lodge said he planned to stay in Washington two days. He said that in addition to the President he will meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, his replacement as ambassador, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who replaces Taylor as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Lodge said he did not know when he would meet with Scranton.

The retiring ambassador was given a flag - waving, cheering sendoff when he left Saigon Sunday. About 7,000, many of them Buddhist school children, turned out to shout farewell to Lodge and his wife.

As thousands of Vietnamese and American flags fluttered in the bright sunlight, a spokesman for the crowd and the government read a brief address praising Lodge for his stand "against Buddhist Flags Fly the oppression of Buddhists by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime." Many of the flags were Buddhist emblems.

The farewell address indirectly chided the United States for having supported the Diem regime for nine years, and expressed hope that Lodge's successor would continue the policies.

Mental Health Needs Surveyed

Emphasis on treatment of mental health cases in home communities will require that mental health services be improved in the Upper Peninsula, it was indicated at a Peninsula wide meeting held in Escanaba Saturday.

Reports were received from the Upper Peninsula Mental Health Planning Committee which is headed by Richard O'Dell, Marquette, of the staff of Northern Michigan University.

Mrs. Nancy Scott, Sault Ste. Marie, is coordinator of the work in the U. P. for the Michigan Department of Mental Health; and John A. Lemmer of Escanaba is regional chairman, Ronald Sage, Lansing, represented the Michigan Department of Mental Health planning division at the meeting.

Survey Needs

The committee of which O'Dell is chairman was formed last fall to survey the existing services for mental health in the Upper Peninsula. The survey is related to implementation of Public Law 88-164, Mental Retardation Facilities, Community Mental Health Constitution Act.

Representatives of the Gogebic area, Copper Country and other areas of the Peninsula, and of Newberry State Hospital, attended the meeting held at the House of Ludington.

The representatives who had surveyed the existing mental health services in their areas found that in general the priority needs are:

1 — Expanded child guidance facilities; 2 — Expanded Adult Mental Health facilities; 3 — Psychiatric needs in hospitals; 4 — Family service agencies with emphasis on marriage counseling; 5 — Expanded facilities for retarded children; 6 — Expanded facilities for treatment of alcoholism; 7 — Expanded facilities for the aged; 8 — Juvenile center for delinquents; and 9 — A need for private psychiatrists.

Expand Clinic

The need for more physical plants and buildings in connection with mental health services; and for professional staff including psychiatrists, social workers and psychologists was emphasized.

The reported needs of the Peninsula for expanded services came from a survey of doctors, the clergy, lawyers, schools, courts and various agencies which make referrals in mental health cases.

Recommended for Delta County was expanded child guidance clinic into all-purpose clinic to serve children, adults, and to do marriage counseling; and long-range planning for a psychiatric unit at St. Francis Hospital.

Bargaining Begins

Bargaining begins in Detroit this week between the United Auto Workers Union and the Big Three of the auto makers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—and the nation will watch the proceedings with fascination and with considerable fear that failure to negotiate a settlement before the Aug. 31, deadline may bring on an automobile strike.

Such a strike would be very unsettling for the national economy and coming in the midst of a presidential campaign it would be regarded as a disaster by the Johnson Administration, which will be doing everything within its vast power to keep the auto workers from "hitting the bricks" and the auto companies from refusing to meet the demands of the union.

Henry Ford II, head of Ford Motor Co. in a recent talk in Coronado, Calif., said that his company may be willing to accept a strike rather than agree to initial demands.

Ford said "There seems to be a widespread assumption that government and public opinion will no longer tolerate strikes in major industries and that therefore a real strike in the automotive industry is out of the question this year. (But) I am convinced that responsible bargaining is most unlikely if the very possibility of a strike is ruled out from the beginning."

There are many reasons to believe that Ford was talking to the Federal Government more than even to the United Auto Workers in that statement because the Johnson Administration has increased intervention in labor-management disputes and achieved settlements by threatening one side or both. The recent rail strike is an example.

The auto industry is a pacemaker for the national economy and many other wage decisions will be riding on what happens at Detroit starting this week, so there's intense government interest in the outcome and there will be pressures aplenty to avoid a strike. The public, as Henry Ford suggests, has come to regard national strikes as very wasteful and unsettling and willing to accept almost any kind of a settlement as preferable to a strike, but the error of this attitude is everywhere apparent. It is most obviously evident in the price of automobiles.

The industry has become dominated by a few huge corporations and the prices they post for buyers are not subject to bargaining. The Johnson Administration has asked United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and other labor leaders to hold their demands for annual wage increases to the average annual increase in productivity in the American economy, which would be about 3.2 per cent, but Reuther (noting Mr. Johnson's approval of a 33½ per cent salary boost voted themselves by Congressmen) and remarking the "fantastic" profits of the auto companies, figures that this is a good year to cut off more of the cake for the workers.

Actually, the Big Three bargainers seem inclined to go along with some increase in wages and with some form of earlier retirement (now mandatory from 69 to 65 and voluntary at 60) but they are hard set against the union's demands for changes in working conditions, especially the time paid for but not worked, like coffee breaks. Auto workers can now leave the assembly line only for their 30-minute lunch break and for two 12 minute periods during the 8 hour shift.

The union is asking a shutdown of the assembly lines for at least 15 minutes during each shift, a total of 39 minutes of paid for and unworked time. UAW officials say only the U.S. doesn't have such assembly line breaks.

Reuther says productivity is rising faster in the auto industry than in some other industries - Automation has played part in this gain. A healthy economy would pass a proportionate share of the gain to the consumer, because his income is controlled in most cases by the increased productivity of industries not as great as that of the automotive industry. Competition is the usual control for this situation, but when it is not a strong force, and unusually high profits often indicate that it is not, government is always tempted to intervene because public commotions like national strikes have political consequences.

The motor people are saying that the chance of trouble is the greatest in years, but economic and political realists know that in this election year a long strike is very unlikely. Walter Reuther doesn't want to make President Johnson look bad on election eve.

The Doctor Says:

Snuff Fireworks' Danger

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Will this be a glorious or an inglorious Fourth of July for your children? Much of the answer will depend on how carefully they have been taught to handle fireworks.

Since nothing made by man is entirely foolproof, there will inevitably be some accidents. But let's hope they will be minor ones. Stricter laws have done a great deal to cut down on Fourth of July accidents, but few laws can take the place of proper supervision and good example.

Nothing can ruin an otherwise happy holiday like a trip to the hospital, especially one that could have been prevented. One of the chief causes of accidents and one that was very popular when I was a boy, is seeing how long you can hold a lighted firecracker in your hand before hurling it into the air. This can only be compared to Russian roulette for kicks, and one of the disadvantages of winning is that it tempts a youngster to try it again.

An even more dangerous practice is the tossing of a lighted firecracker just behind a playmate when he isn't looking. These and similar intentions to disaster are not covered by even our strictest laws, so it is up to you parents to prevent them.

Don't wait and punish your child after an accident. Rather, encourage in him some idea of the consequences of careless or thoughtless acts and praise him for his demonstrated consideration of others.

Q—Is it true that pinworms can eat a hole in the intestine? My 7-year-old daughter had pinworms when she was 3. Although the doctor says she doesn't have them now, I think she does, because she has blood in her stools sometimes. Our doctor says this is enteritis.

A—When pinworm eggs that have been swallowed hatch in the lower intestinal tract, they work their way out of the body via the anus. They don't make any side trips and they don't cause bleeding, but leave this to other types of parasite.

Enteritis is inflammation of the bowel. This disease will indeed cause bleeding, diarrhea, and marked loss of weight. The cause is not known and the treatment is not easy. This is a serious condition that calls for expert medical care.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Plans are being made in the State Department and Pentagon for a quiet but drastic overhaul of key U. S. officers and civilians in South Viet Nam.

This reshuffle has already begun. Officials and officers have been moved out, new and quite different men sent in.

Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland has been selected to replace Gen. Paul Harkins as commander of U. S. forces in South Viet Nam. Some high officials of the State Department have been working to get Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge brought home and succeeded by a career diplomat. Shifts of Agency for International Development (AID) officials are in the offing.

The belief here is that somehow the higher officials and officers in Saigon have been fighting the wrong kind of war—a conventional European type war—and following the kind of diplomacy that goes with it. They haven't understood the kind of guerrilla war that's going on in South Viet Nam. They've gone too much by the book, haven't been flexible or unconventional.

al enough. "Some very able men just haven't been able to adapt," says one official wryly.

The new and tougher policy is going to be that if an official or an officer doesn't get results, he'll be brought home.

Specialists are running tests to determine what type of officer and civilian works best in South Viet Nam. Some very able men haven't made the grade. Others who couldn't get along in conventional roles seem to "find" themselves in this irregular war.

There's another reason for the overhaul. There has been too much pulling and tugging between the military, the diplomats and the AID men in South Viet Nam. In order to make the Viet Nam operation successful, all three groups must work as a co-ordinated team.

That co-ordination has been achieved in Washington after some false starts. But it has been slow in coming in the field. This failure is the root of the complaint about Lodge. As U. S. ambassador, he has major responsibilities for making certain that the diplomats, AID men, military and intelligence operators work closely together. There's strong feeling in the State Department that Lodge has fallen down on that co-ordinating job. As a result, the delicate Viet Nam operation has bogged down.

Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh is attempting the same sort of reshuffle among his top general and provincial officials for the same two reasons—inefficiency and lack of co-ordination. He's having great difficulty. There are powerful cliques in South Viet Nam. Moving some of the ineffective generals could stir up a military revolt against Khanh's government. So he's moving slowly and cautiously. "It's fine if we have the time," says one U. S. official, "but I'm afraid it's running out."

As the second part of the overhaul, more U. S. and Vietnamese officials and officers will be transferred out of Saigon into the field.

There's belief in the Defense and State departments that this has been too much of a headquarters war. Khanh agrees. The aim now is to get as many Americans and key Vietnamese as possible into the provinces where the military, political and economic war is being lost.

Summer is the time of year when it's wonderful to be alive just like all other seasons.

Briefly Told

An aerial survey of bald eagle nests was made by Sergej Postupalsky of Warren, chief for the count in Michigan, with Vern Bernard, pilot. About 25 nests were counted in a flight from Cooks and Thompson north to Au Train. Persons who know of nests are asked to advise Bernard or Postupalsky. Though foliage is on now, the counts must be made when the birds are using their nests. This is a matter of only a few weeks each year.

Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor inspected the gardens of Joan Villeneuve, Jean Brunet and Patty Johnson when the 4-H Garden Club met Thursday. The next meeting will be July 6 at 10 a.m.

Mix Osterhout approved veteran burial allowances for three, as submitted to the County Board of Supervisors. He was not a recipient of an allowance, as was erroneously stated Friday.

Road Workers Seek 10c Raise

The Association of Schoolcraft road commission employees reports it has refused an offer of a 4 cent wage increase plus one day sick leave without a doctor's permit.

The action was taken at a June 25 meeting of the Road Commission and the employees' bargaining committee.

Employees had asked a 10 cent raise or six days more vacation after 10 years service. This was refused by the Road Commission.

Appeals Court Campaign Is On

Austin Doyle, Kalamazoo attorney, campaigned in Escanaba in the weekend for Democratic nomination as a justice of the new Michigan Court of Appeals. The court was authorized by the new Constitution and implemented by the Legislature and becomes operative next year.

Its jurisdiction will be between the Circuit Court and the Michigan Supreme Court. Three judges of the appellate court will be elected in each of 3 districts.

District 1 is Wayne (Detroit) County, District 2 is 16 counties around Detroit, and District 3 is the rest of Michigan including all of the Upper Peninsula. Eighty per cent of appeals from circuit courts are expected to go to the new appellate court instead of directly to the State Supreme Court as at present. Its headquarters will be in Lansing but its justices are expected to sit in their districts, with 8 or 10 cities expected to be used by justices of District 3.

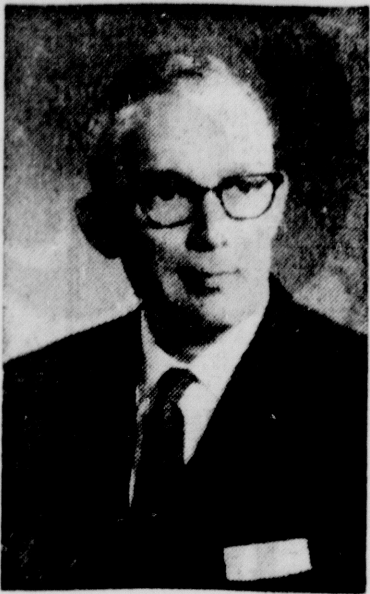

Doyle said that he is the 9th person to announce his candidacy for the new court that he knows of. A commissioner of the State Bar of Michigan, he has been a trial attorney for 18 years, is a native of Oak Park, Ill., and served in the FBI before he entered the law.

He is a Democrat and so are Robert Burns, ex-municipal judge of Grand Rapids, and Municipal Judge William J. Bolognesi of Iron Mountain.

Announced Republican aspirants include: Carl Smith, Jr., Bay City; State Senator John W. Fitzgerald, Grand Ledge; Robert Howlett, Grand Rapids; ex-state senator Carlton (No Income Tax) Morris of Kalamazoo; Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller of Tawas City; Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook of Clare.

The appellate court justices will have a salary of $23,000 compared with $25,000 for supreme court justices and a base of $17,000 for circuit court judges.

Most industrial states like Michigan have an appellate court.

Why would anyone put a phone down there?

Here's why:

An 80-year-old Flint widow suffering from arthritis had to spend most of every day in bed. Her son called Michigan Bell and requested that an extension phone be installed in his mother's bedroom to help brighten her long hours of dreary isolation.

Installer Ray Tufford arrived at the woman's home and started to install a phone on a side table within the woman's reach. However, he realized the woman would suffer severe pain in raising herself up enough to dial a number. How to solve the problem?

Installer Tufford decided the best way to make dialing easy for the woman was to place a wall phone right at bed-height. He showed the woman how this might help. She was delighted to find that she would be able to dial with ease while lying in bed.

Nothing dramatic or startling about this little incident. It's just another example of how telephone people try to give you the best service possible. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Mary Alice Nelson, Winton Thurber Wed

Bethany Lutheran Church in Escanaba was the scene of the beautiful and impressive candlelight ceremony Saturday, June 27, at which Mary Alice Nelson and Winton Thurber repeated their marriage vows. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Nelson of 1412 7th Ave. S. Mr. and Mrs. Myles Thurber of Hershey, Neb., are the bridegroom's parents.

The 7 p.m. service was solemnized by the Rev. J. Philemon Anderson of Baraboo, Wis., brother-in-law of the bride, the Rev. Sidney W. Jones of Pueblo Colo., Bethany's former pastor, who gave the Exhortation, and the Rev. Dr. Walfred E. Nelson, present pastor.

Attendants of the bride were her sister, Mrs. J. Philemon Anderson, Baraboo, who was matron of honor, and Miss Virginia A. Jones of Pueblo, a close friend, who was bridesmaid. Their identical floor length gowns were white tulle over pale pink taffeta. The bodice was styled with elbow length sleeves, and a scooped neckline and the percola skirt was detailed with pink satin ribbon frosting its white border embroidery. Their headpieces of pink tulle and white ribbons were topped with a pink rose, matching the back waistline bow of the dresses. They carried clusters of pink roses and carnations with cascading white daisies.

Bride's Ensemble

Dressed like the adult attendant was little Susan Jo Anderson, Baraboo, a niece of the bride, who was flower girl. She had a floral headpiece and she carried a basket filled with pink rosebuds and white daisies.

The bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, was attired in a floor length gown of silk organza and reembodyered Alencon lace over taffeta. The bodice was empire style with elbow length sleeves and scooped neckline, trimmed with a wide band of the lace, embroidered with seed pearls. The skirt flowed into a wateau train and was detailed with appliques of lace. For the reception, the train formed a bustle. Her fingertip bouffant veil was of silk illusion, falling from a pearl inverted crown, detailed with tear drops. A white orchid centered her cascading bouquet of white carnations and ivy foliage.

Best man for Mr. Thurber was the bride's brother, Richard G. Nelson Sr. of Oak Creek, Wis. Ronald Howard, Dean of Men at Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis., a close friend of the bridegroom, was groomsmen and ushering were LeRoy Nordahl, Bismarck, N.D., and Robert W. Johnson of Kingsford.

Ring Bearers

Completing the bridal party were nephews of the bride, Richard G. Nelson Jr., Oak Creek, and Richard J. Anderson, Baraboo, who each carried a white satin pillow with a single white carnation holding the ring.

Serving as acolytes during the service were Tom Anderson and Tom Loodeen.

Soloist, Conrad D. Beck, sang "Like a Shepherd, God Doth Guide Us" by Bash and "Wedding Prayer," Dunlap. A close friend of the bride, Mrs. LeRoy Nordahl of Bismarck, who was organist, played "Trumpet Voluntary," Purcell, as the processional. As the couple knelt in prayer before the recessional, she played the Benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Vases of white carnations and white mums were on the altar for the service. At either side of the chancel railing was a candelabra arrangement of white carnations and lemon foliage. Pews were marked with tall tapers, backed with lemon foliage and white satin bows.

At Reception

For her daughter's wedding and the reception for 250 guests, held in Bethany church parlor, Mrs. Nelson wore an ensemble of reembodyered linen in peony pink and a hat of shaded pink roses. Mrs. Thurber wore white accessories with her pink linen dress. Clusters of pink rosebuds and carnations formed their corsages.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Richard G. Nelson Sr., who served punch, Mrs. Ronald Boggs, North Platte, Neb., a sister of the bridegroom, who cut and served the wedding cake, Mrs. Robert W. Johnson of Kingsford and Mrs. Thomas Gironimi of Norway, who presided at the silver services, Miss Sandra Morin, guest book attendant, Miss Nancy Thurber, Hershey, and Mrs. Frederick Strieter, who were in charge of the gift table, Miss Jeanine Lippold and Miss Audrey Sanders.

The reception table was graced with a tapered bouquet of pink roses and carnations and daisies. Individual tables had centerpieces of pink carnations and snapdragons centered with a white candle. The punch and cake tables were decorated with swags of springer and clusters of flowers in pink shades, and a hanging arrangement of pink and white carnations and snapdragons was suspended over the pink covered gift table.

Rookies Star As Tigers Split Pair With Yankees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rookies Joe Sparda and Gates Brown are a pinch to make the Detroit Tigers' regular lineup if they continue to perform the way they did against the New York Yankees Sunday.

The two youngsters combined to pitch and bat the Tigers to a 6-5 split of a doubleheader at New York. The Yanks won the opener 8-6 on a grand slam home run by Tom Tresh in the eighth inning.

Detroit, victor in six of its last nine games, moved into Washington to open a two-game series with the Senators tonight. Manager Charlie Dressen expects to start Phil Regan (3-6) against Claude Osteen (5-4).

Regan, who along with southpaw Hank Aguirre, has faltered as a starter this year, may have to give way to Sparda.

Sparda came to the rescue of Mickey Lolich in the sixth inning of the nightcap with the score knotted 5-5. Brown slugged his sixth homer in the seventh. It was all Sparda needed.

He allowed two hits and two walks in blanking the Yankees over the last four innings. The sparkling relief job earned him his first major league victory and evened his season mark at 1-1.

Brown, who also crashed a first-inning double to drive in the first Detroit run in the nightcap, ended the day 2-for-5, scored two runs and drove in two more. He boosted his batting average to .301.

Tresh, of Allen Park, Mich., saved the Yanks from a four-game sweep by the surging Bengals. His bases-loaded walk Saturday gave the New Yorkers a 5-4 victory in 10 innings.

Detroit was ahead 6-4 in the opener Sunday when the switch-hitting outfielder thumped a southpaw homer off reliever Larry Sherry.

The game was a study in frustration for Detroit. The Tigers scored right off on Jake Wood's bunt single, and two more hits by Al Kaline and Bill Freehan. Don Demeter, who drove in three runs, also singled, but Kaline was tossed out at the plate by Roger Maris.

Aguirre got in trouble right off, walking two men, fanning Maris, and then giving up a run-scoring single to Mickey Mantle. When Tresh doubled home another run, Dressen brought in Ed Rakow.

Don Demeter, slugging the first of two homers, tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth, and Detroit went ahead on Jerry Lumpe's run-scoring infield hit.

In the fifth, Demeter homered with Al Kaline aboard to make it 5-2, and Dick McAuliffe clouted his 11th homer in the sixth to make it 6-2.

The Yankees knocked Rakow out in the sixth with a two-run uprising. A pinch-hit single by John Blanchard scored the first run, then Rakow loaded the bases with a walk to Phil Linz. Terry Fox came in with one out and got out of the jam with another run scoring on Bobby Richardson's sacrifice fly.

It stayed that way until Tresh hampered his grand slam in the eighth. The Tigers loaded the bases with one out in the ninth, but Demeter hit into a game-ending double play.

Reliever Stan Williams was the winner for New York. Sherry took the loss.

Doubles by Billy Bruton and Brown, plus Norm Cash's 11th homer gave Detroit a 3-0 lead in the first inning of the nightcap. But the Yanks scored two runs on Mantle's double in their half of the inning.

Bruton started another rally with a lead-off single in the third.

Kaline singled, took second when Tresh hesitated on the throw, and then Cash drove in Bruton with a sacrifice fly. Lumpe singled home Kaline for a 5-2 lead.

The Yanks made it 5-3 on Clete Boyer's double and a single by Roland Sheldon in the fourth, and tied it up 5-5 in the fifth on a single, Mantle's triple, and Elston Howard's single.

Sparda and Brown took charge then and earned the Tigers a two-two split in the weekend series to maintain a 4-3 season edge on the Yanks.

Al Kaline, with four hits in eight trips, raised his season batting average over the .300 mark for the first time this season. He's now hitting .306.

Skinny O'Hara Finally Beats Mile Tormentor

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Skinny Tom O'Hara, the pale Chicagoan who thrives on peanut butter sandwiches and looks as though a stiff Windy City breeze would blow him clear across Lake Michigan, has finally given the back of his freckled Irish hand—and heels—to his arch-tormentor, Dyrrol Burleson.

Like a playful leprechaun pulling a sudden disappearing act, O'Hara gave Burleson a slight sniff of victory and then pulled away down the stretch for a record-smashing 1,500-meter triumph Sunday at the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

In six previous meetings—four at a mile and two at 1,500 meters—Burleson had never tasted defeat from O'Hara. But the lanky Oregonian couldn't match red-haired Tom's finishing kick this time as O'Hara pounded home in 3:38.1, an American record and the equivalent of a 3:55.1 mile.

O'Hara, Burleson, Jim Greile and gangling Jim Ryan, the incredible 17-year-old Wichita, Kan., schoolboy, all bettered the American mark of 3:39.3 set only three weeks ago by Cary Weisiger. Burleson's time was 3:38.8, Greile's 3:38.9 and Ryan's 3:39 and Weisiger himself could do no better than 3:40.9, good for eighth place.

The two-day meet gave America's Olympic hopefuls a chance to qualify for the trials in New York next weekend. The first six Americans in each event who had not previously qualified won the right to compete in the Olympic trials and the first two

Gafner Pitches No-Hit Triumph; Pow-Herm Wins

Sunday Results
Escanaba 15, Gladstone 0
Pow-Herm 7, Manistique 0

Mike Gafner hit baseball's pitching jackpot Sunday with a nifty no-hitter to lead the Esby Cubs to a 15-0 victory over Gladstone in Waubesa league action.

Gafner had Gladstone's batsmen eating out of his hand as he twirled his masterpiece, striking out 18 and granting only four walks. Not a Gladstone runner was able to reach second base.

While Gafner was spinning his mound magic, Coach Al Ness' hitters had a field day at the plate. They slugged 14 hits off two Gladstone choppers.

Jim Johnson had only one of the hits for Esby, but it was a big one. He homered with the bases loaded in the seventh inning. Ron Gauthier also hit a circuit clout, connecting with the bases empty in the first frame.

Frank Trotter and Jerry Hanson each stroked a double and single while Jim Fitzharris and Jim Berish contributed two singles apiece.

The Powers-Hermansville team ran up its third straight victory of the campaign by beating Manistique 7-0 as Dennis McClure threw a strong three-hitter. He fired the third strike past 13 batsmen.

Negaunee Racer Wins Feature In Stock Cars

Bill Palm of Negaunee toiled his auto to first place in the feature race of the stock car program at the fairgrounds oval before a fair crowd Sunday.

Dan Bougay of Bark River won the semi-feature while Dan Derouin of Wells finished first in the first heat, John Krokstad won the second heat and Forrest Libby the third.

Other local drivers finishing among the top money winners were Larry Valiquette of Escanaba second and Art Richer of Schaffer third in the semi, Valiquette third and Rod Johnson of Escanaba fourth in the first heat, Richer second, Sonny Richer third and Dave Hoskins of Schaffer fourth in the second heat and Don Benoit of Escanaba third in the third heat.

Little League

Summer heat wilted Escanaba Jaycee Little League pitching in Saturday's play as all games turned out to be free scoring affairs. Dave Moberg, Kiwanis left-hander, had a good game going as he wiffed 13 in the first five innings, but lost his shutout in the final inning as Kiwanis beat the Bankers 12 to 4. In the mid-afternoon game V. F. W. pounded the sagging Lions pitching staff to win 13 to 4. The nightcap proved to be another marathon with the final score Credit Union 11, Rotary 9. Tonight Rotary plays the Eagles.

The league leaders reached Jon (No-Hit) Cameron for five hits and took advantage of eight Manistique miscues.

Braves Deny Trade Rumors

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Rumors of a whopping trade with the New York Mets drew denials Sunday from Milwaukee Braves' officials and some ire from Eddie Mathews, one of the players supposedly involved.

According to a story Sunday in a New York newspaper, Mathews, Warren Spahn and Frank Bolling were to be surrendered to the Mets for $200,000 and three players.

"I'm getting sick and tired of all those trades coming out of some sports writer's imagination," said Mathews. "It's not only ridiculous but pitiful. I bet the writer a steak that it was a lie."

Mathews has been hitting well lately, getting three hits in seven times up in Sunday's twin victories over the Mets. He and Spahn are the only survivors of the original team which moved here from Boston in 1953.

Spahn remarked, "I don't know what's ahead so I'm not going to say anything." However, the 43-year-old veteran pitcher insisted he was far from being through as some have claimed.

"I wouldn't be here if I thought otherwise and you can bet on that," he said. "Physically, I feel great. That's all I'm going to say."
"It sounds like something someone dreamed up," said Braves' President John McHale. "This club will never trade Spahn."

Palmer's Putter Comes Back To Cost Him Money

CLEVELAND (AP)—Arnold Palmer will be a bit more careful in the future about lending putters to competitors.

About six weeks ago Tony Lema broke the weapon he had been using on the greens, and the big-hearted Arnie lent him one of his own.

Sunday, in a great come-from-behind effort, and in an extraordinary sudden death playoff, Arnie used the borrowed club to beat Palmer out of the $20,000 top prize in the $100,000 Cleveland

Open Golf Tournament. Palmer settled for second place and $12,000.

Arnie and Jack Nicklaus, at the end of 54 holes, were deadlocked at 11-under-par 202 and three strokes ahead of the field.

Nicklaus fell out of it on the first hole of the final round, taking a bogey to Palmer's birdie—and never came close to making up the two strokes.

But Lema, waving his putter like a magic wand, then stepped into the act. He sank putts of 15, 13, 8, 5 and 18 feet for five straight birdies to end the front nine—and he was deadlocked with Palmer. He birdied No. 14 with a 40-footer, and got down in two strokes from 45 feet for another on No. 16.

He was one ahead coming to 18, where he stuck his approach six feet from the home. He was shooting for a course-record 63 if he could sink it, and he could also force Palmer, who was a pair of threesomes back, to birdie the last two holes to tie.

But the putt rolled eight inches past the cup. He was careful about it—but the eight-inch also stayed out and he had a bogey. Palmer parred in to tie, and almost won it when his putt hit the back of the cup on 18 and stayed out. They finished at 270, or 14 under par for the Highland Park layout.

Lema birdied the first extra hole with a 15-footer, giving him the verdict and reversing last year's decision in the same tournament when Palmer beat him 67 to 70 in a playoff.

Nicklaus finished two strokes off the pace at 272, deadlocked with 25-year-old Terry Dill of Muleshoe, Tex. The latter's $6,250 payoff was the biggest of his career.

Way Pitches No-Hitter In Babe Ruth

Saturday Results

Teamsters 3, Bankers 2 (12 innings)

A brilliant no-hit, no-run pitching performance by John Way highlighted Saturday's Babe Ruth baseball league action.

Way led his Kifanis team to a 1-0 victory over Harnischfeger Local with his mound gem in which he gained 13 batsmen and walked four. He singled in Bob Irish, who had doubled in the fourth inning, with the only run of the game.

Gerald Richards allowed six hits from the Harnie mound.

Rich Lancour and Roger Chylek handled the pitching duties for Insurance while Jim Boyle chucked for the Paper Makers.

The Teamsters edged the Bankers 3-2 in a 12-inning battle. The end came when Larry Anderson doubled and allowed seven hits. The Teamsters collected 10 hits off Nye and Coussineau.

Her headpiece was a matching crown with a circular veil attached. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of shaded pink carnations.

Lloyd Olson, of Bay View was best man and Robert Roberts and Vern LaPlant were ushers.

Mrs. Weber chose a two piece blue lace gown with beige accessories for her daughter's wedding and her corsage was of deep pink carnations.

After a reception at the Midway from 4 to 8 p.m. the couple left for a wedding trip through the Copper Country. When they return they will be at home at 1319 1/2 Delta Ave.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High School and Augustana Nursery in Chicago. She is employed at St. Francis Hospital. Her husband is also a graduate of Gladstone High School and is employed by the city electrical department.

ARNOLD J. Korpi, a teacher at Wakefield High School since 1948, was recently appointed to the field service staff of the Michigan Education Assn. As field representative to the entire Upper Peninsula, Korpi will act as liaison between state and local units of the MEA. His main duties will be to extend the services and programs of the MEA to its members and to improve the status of the teaching profession. A graduate of Northern Michigan University, with a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, Korpi began his teaching career at Rockland High School in 1946. In 1948 he joined the Wakefield school system as a teacher of business education. During the 1963 school year he also taught at Gogebic Community College.

Mussel Shell Digging Dies

STEVENSON, Ala. (AP)—Lee Garner, whose Tennessee River mussel shells have buttoned dress shirts and spawned pearl necklaces for two decades, was clad in overalls—and on his knees.

Instead of one of his 40 outboard engines, Stevenson's mussel man was fixing a power lawn mower—and his position is symbolic.

Digging for mussels in the Tennessee, once a million dollar yearly industry providing jobs for 1,000 fishermen, also is on its knees. In the past 10 years, mussel slumped before the plastics industry, rose again with postwar Japan—and now is threatened with the disappearance of the oyster-like mussel itself.

"Something is getting into the river and killing all the mussels from Chattanooga to Savannah, Tenn.," says Garner, at 39 a grandfather who has been musseling since he was 18. "Things got so bad about a year ago that I bought myself a little hardware store in town."

That explains why Garner was fixing the lawn mower, instead of one of the engines powering his fleet of flat-bottomed river boats. And the Tennessee Valley Authority is spending $80,000 to try to explain why things got so bad. As yet, TVA has not embraced Garner's theory that pollution is killing the shell fish.

Whatever the trouble, the pig-toe mussel which grows on the Tennessee River bed from Chattanooga to Savannah is the key to Garner's fortunes and that of the industry of which he is a part. Its hard, nearly flawless, white shell has been used in recent years by Japanese growers as seed or nucleus for the cultured pearls produced by their captive oysters.

Perfect For Pearls
For some reason, shells from the many other varieties of mussels in the Tennessee, or from pig-toes found in other rivers, seem to lack the qualities needed to promote first-rate pearls. And because mussels look alike to the uninitiated, it takes an experienced eye like Garner's to separate the good from the bad.

When he began musseling 21 years ago, he shipped his shells mostly to Muscatine, Iowa. There, tons of shells were turned into pearl buttons.

By 1953, plastics had popped pearl buttons from the market, as nearly all button manufacturers in Muscatine converted to man-made materials. But the shell game bounced back with the appearance of a new market in the Orient.

The Japanese found that bits of Tennessee pig-toe shell, hand-rolled into tiny balls and inserted into oyster shells, formed a perfect pearl nucleus. The result has been virtually a direct link between the Tennessee River and Japan's Inland Sea. Mussel shell prices rose as high as $180 a ton.

"In good years, I've shipped up to 400 tons of shells to Japan," said Garner. He exports the shells in 25-ton lots, but "this year, I doubt if we've shipped more than 50 tons."

One reason is the price, which currently is quoted at $47 a ton, the result of a backlog of shells in Japanese warehouses.

The Blahnik car was traveling north on US-241 in Wells Township and slowed down for a car that pulled out in front of her. Holleman was unable to stop in time and struck the rear of the Blahnik car. He was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

No tickets were issued in the mishap and State Police, who investigated, say that Christopher suffered a fracture of the left leg, laceration of the forehead and multiple bruises.

Ann Landers

Wife's Modesty Irks Husband

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I have been married 12 years. She still undresses at night in the clothes closet, with the lights turned off.

I mentioned this casually because I didn't want to make an issue of it. She became upset and said I was lecherous and something must be wrong with my mind. This was five years ago and I haven't brought it up since.

We have two children and are happily married. I have no complaints except this. If you can tell me why my wife behaves this way I will find it easier to accept. May I hear from you? — BLACK OUT.

Dear Black Out: A woman who must hide from her husband while undressing (for 12 years yet) has some badly warped ideas about her body. These ideas were undoubtedly drummed into her when she was a child.

In an effort to teach their children modesty parents sometimes give the impression that there is something nasty about the body. The children grow up ashamed and inhibited. They feel they must hide that which is evil, and darkness is best for hiding.

Judging from the little you have told me I think you are fortunate you haven't had more serious problems with your wife.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 15-year-old son almost tore the roof off the house because I picked up one of his hi-fi records with my bare hands. He said perspiration and natural oil from human hands ruin the grooves in the records and destroy the authenticity of the sound. When he puts a record on or takes it off he uses a soft cloth.

This isn't all. He now tells me that soon he will have to buy another needle for the machine and that it has to be a diamond stylus because the needle we now have has been in use almost 150 hours. The new needle will cost $19.95.

Have I gone nuts or have times changed that much? I'm an old relic like you, Ann, born back in 1917. Please comment. — DODDERING OLD FOOL OF 47.

Dear Doddering: Yup, Dad, times have changed. When we were kids anybody who owned a little ol' table model phonograph was a real gosh-darn it, and a 15c needle was the bee's knees. Today if a kid doesn't have stereo he is considered culturally deprived.

The current croup of teenagers have a healthier respect for records than we had, and that's good. It encourages interest in fine music. So keep your lip zipped, Dad, and be glad your son isn't out stealing hub caps.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 17-year-old daughter who graduated from high school this June has told us she is pregnant. Her steady boy friend is 20.

These two want to get married. They say they are in love and are sorry they lost control of their emotions. The boy has had three years of college. He is putting himself through by working part time and wants to continue until he gets a degree so he can teach.

I say these kids are too young to get married. If they are really in love they can wait a while. After the baby comes my daughter will be able to think more clearly. Right now she is an emotional wreck and thoroughly confused.

You have said in your column dozens of times that shotgun weddings are no good. Please say it again and I will show it to them. — CHATTA-NOOGA FATHER.

Dear Father: What I have said is this: I am opposed to dragging a boy to the altar and forcing him to marry the girl.

Unwilling grooms make rotten husbands and worse fathers. This boy is not unwilling, however. He wants to marry your daughter and I hope you will not try to stand in their way.

Iowa Surgeon New AMA Head

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—A 59-year-old Dubuque doctor who takes over next year as president of the American Medical Association is a specialist in plastic surgery but one of his main concerns is the family doctor.

Dr. Donovan F. Ward was named president - elect of the AMA at its national convention in San Francisco.

It's an office he cherished and for a reason.

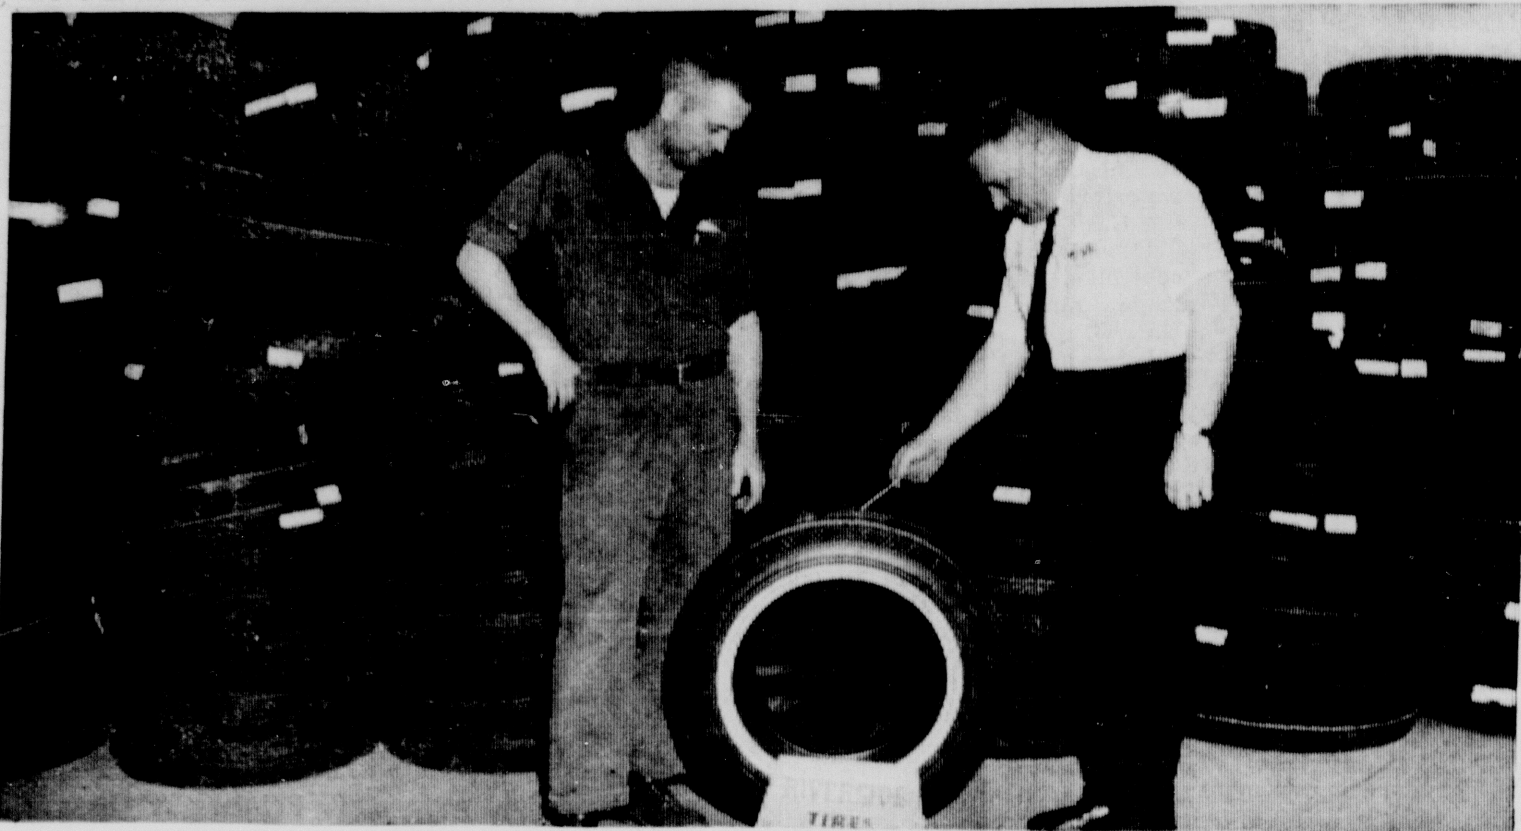

"I don't want to destroy the relationship between the general practitioner and the specialist but I do want to strengthen the concept of the family doctor," said Dr. Ward, chief of the surgical section of Finley Hospital here.

Sandwiched between Iraq and Saudi Arabia, Kuwait has an area of only 6,000 square miles.
